Stamping...

859-233-7445

Stamping is the process of forming metal into various shapes using dies in hydraulic or mechanical presses.

We pursue hand fed or coil fed sheet metal stamping work.

We can use existing dies or quote dies for your custom metal stampings. Several of our partners in the Supply Chain Alliance, LLC are stamping experts that can produce medium and small precision metal stampings in both high and low volumes.

Our partners have presses that range up to 600 tons and they also host four slide machines for wire forms and small precision stamped parts.

We can provide a variety of secondary processes including drilling, tapping, grooving, broaching, welding, heat-treating, plating, painting and anodizing. Let us be your one stop metal stamping company.

One source. One Vision.
